DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicants' submission, filed 9/10/07 and 10/5/07, have been entered.

Amended claims 52, 57, and 60 and cancelled claims 1-51, 53-55, and 58-59, filed 9/10/07, are acknowledged.

Claims herein under examination are 52, 56, 57, and 60.

Claim Objections

Claim 52 (line 42) is objected to because of the following informality: Claim 52 recites "state I" which should read "state i". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 52, 56-57, and 60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

This rejection is maintained and reiterated for reasons of record.

Under the Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility (published in the O.G. notice (1300 OG 142) on 11/22/2005) a method that does not result in a physical transformation of matter MAY be statutory where it recites a concrete, tangible and useful result; i.e. a practical application.

The instant claims are directed to a method for determining a probability for one or more states for an examined nucleotide in a nucleic acid sequence. It is noted that the method does not result in a physical transformation of matter, nor is any concrete, tangible and useful result produced/recited. Therefore, these claims are not statutory.

Applicant has amended instant claim 52 to recite a "providing" step f) in order to overcome the 35 USC 101 rejection. This amendment is found unpersuasive as "providing" may take place solely within a computer and does not necessarily mean that the providing is in a tangible form to a user. Amending the term "providing" in the first and fourth lines of step f) in claim 52 to the word "outputting" will nullify this rejection.

Conclusion

No claim is allowed.
